

Presidential vs.
Parliamentary

WHAT'S THE DIFFERENCE?

REMEMBER
They are both democracies!!

PEOPLE GET TO VOTE IN BOTH OF THESE GOVERNMENTS!

Presidential Democracy

- Citizens are voting for the executive branch (President)
- Executive & Legislative branch are separate
- Leader is called the President

Parliamentary Democracy

- Citizens are voting for legislative branch (parliament)
- Executive & Legislative are not separated
- Leader is selected or elected by the legislative group
- Leader is called the Prime Minister
